DETAILED ACTION

1. The amendment filed on May 9, 2005 has been received.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 5 recites the limitation "a chip-type laminar thermistor" in line 2. The word "chip-type" is vague and indefinite.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claim 10 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Moretti et al. (US 6,179,471) in view of Hajzler (US 5,431,413).

Re-claim 10 Moretti et al. disclosed, as shown in fig. 1-5, a rolling bearing assembly including a stationary 1 and rotary 2a, 2b rings, one positioned inside the other, the rolling bearing assembly comprising: a sealing member 9 secured to the stationary bearing ring and comprising a core metal 10; and a temperature sensor 17 affixed directly to an intermediate portion of the core metal and determining a temperature of the metal core.

However Moretti et al. was silent to disclose an elastic member on the sealing device, made of one of rubber or resin and integrated together with the core metal.

Hajzler teaches, as shown in fig. 7, a rolling bearing having a seal 35 integrated together with a core metal 2.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to have install an elastic member on the sealing device of Moretti et al., in view of the teaching of Hajzler, in order to avoid dirt and moisture into the bearing.

6. Claim 5 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

7. Claims 2-4, 6, and 7 are allowed.

8. Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 10 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

9. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP

Art Unit: 3683

§ 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
